GENERAL INFORMATION PERTAINING TO WATER RIGHTS IN CALIFORNIA

There are two principal types of surface water rights in California. They are riparian and appropriative rights.

A riparian right enables an owner of land bordering a natural lake or stream to take and use water on his riparian land. Riparian land must be in the same watershed as the water source and must never have been severed from the sources of supply by an intervening parcel without reservation of the riparian right to the severed parcel. Generally, a riparian water user must share the water supply with other riparian users. Riparian rights may be used to divert the natural flow of a stream but may not be used to store water for later use or divert water which originates in a different watershed, water previously stored by others, return flows from use of groundwater, or other "foreign" water to the natural stream system.

An appropriative right is required for use of water on nonriparian land and for storage of water. Generally, appropriative rights may be exercised only when there is a surplus not needed by riparian water users. Since 1914, new appropriators have been required to obtain a permit and license from the State. Appropriate rights can be granted to waters "foreign" to the natural stream system.

Statements of Water Diversion and Use must be filed by riparian and pre 1914 appropriative water users as set forth in Water Code section 5100 with specific exceptions. The filing of a statement (1) provides a record of water use, (2) enables the State to notify such users if someone proposes a new appropriation upstream from their diversions, and (3) assists the State to determine if additional water is available for future appropriators.

The above discussion is provided for general information. For more specific information concerning water rights, please contact an attorney or write to this office. We have several pamphlets available. They include: (1) Statements of Water Diversion and Use, (2) Information Pertaining to Water Rights in California, and (3) Appropriation of Water in California.

VARIOUS SOURCES IN SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY

In your letter of October 31, 1989 you asked if we had received your submittals of Statements of Water Diversion and Use (Statements) for diversions on O.X. Ranch. We have received your submittal of Statements Nos. 10060 through 10069 and Nos. 11344 through 11350 for the year 1988. Our records show these Statements for Kessler Springs Ranch.

You also asked if the Bureau of Land Management has filings for Dove Springs and Carruthers Well. Our records show a Statement under the name of the Bureau of Land Management for Dove Springs but none for Carruthers Well.

If I can be of further assistance, please write or call (916) 324-5689.

Sincerely,

Attention: Shige Ohada

Dear Mr. Ohada:

On March 30 I sent to you the Statements of Water Division and Use for livestock waters located on the O.X. Ranch. At that time I also questioned a filing by the B.L.M. for Lake Springs and Carruthers Well.

I would like to know if you received these statements and if the B.L.M. has been removed as users from the above mentioned waters.

Your prompt attention will be appreciated.
